abolition

the act of officially ending slavery

abolitionist

a person who supports ending slavery adapt to change to fit better into an environment

adaptable

able to change in order to work better in the current circumstances

allegiance

loyalty

alliance

an agreement between people or groups to work together for a common cause amendment

a change to the Constitution that Congress votes to approve ammunition

bullets and other objects that are shot from weapons

anarchy

a state of disorder where there are no rules and people do whatever they want ancestor

a relative from past times