

MONEY

BY EMILY SCHLESINGER

Walk into any store in the U.S.
Look around. Items are for sale.
There is only one way to get them. That is with money.

Together, bills and coins are called cash. Using cash is one way to pay.

Count out what you owe. What if you don't have the exact amount? You can give more. The worker will give back change.

TRAVEL MONEY

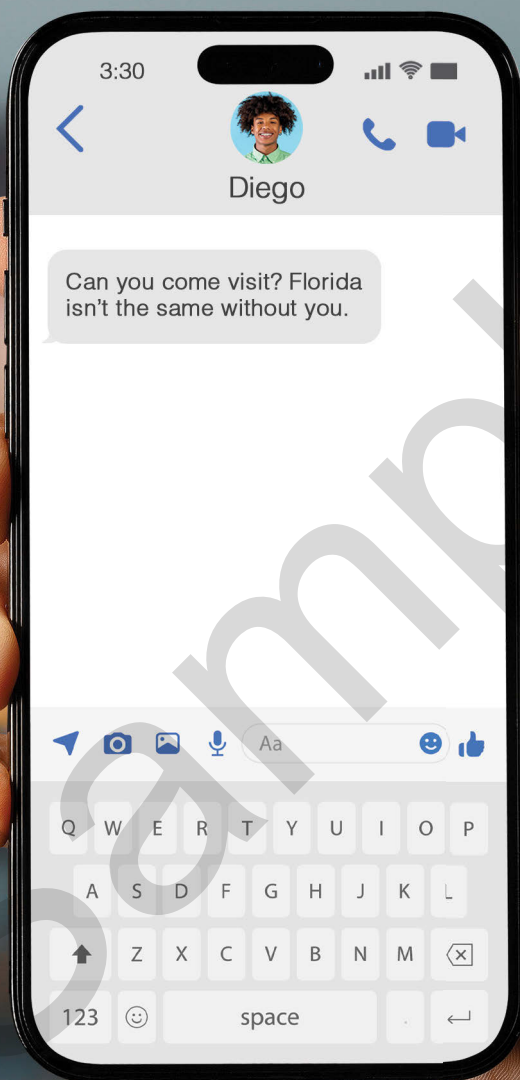

BY SHANNA SILVA

Manny Leon flipped through the TV channels. He sighed. There was nothing good to watch.

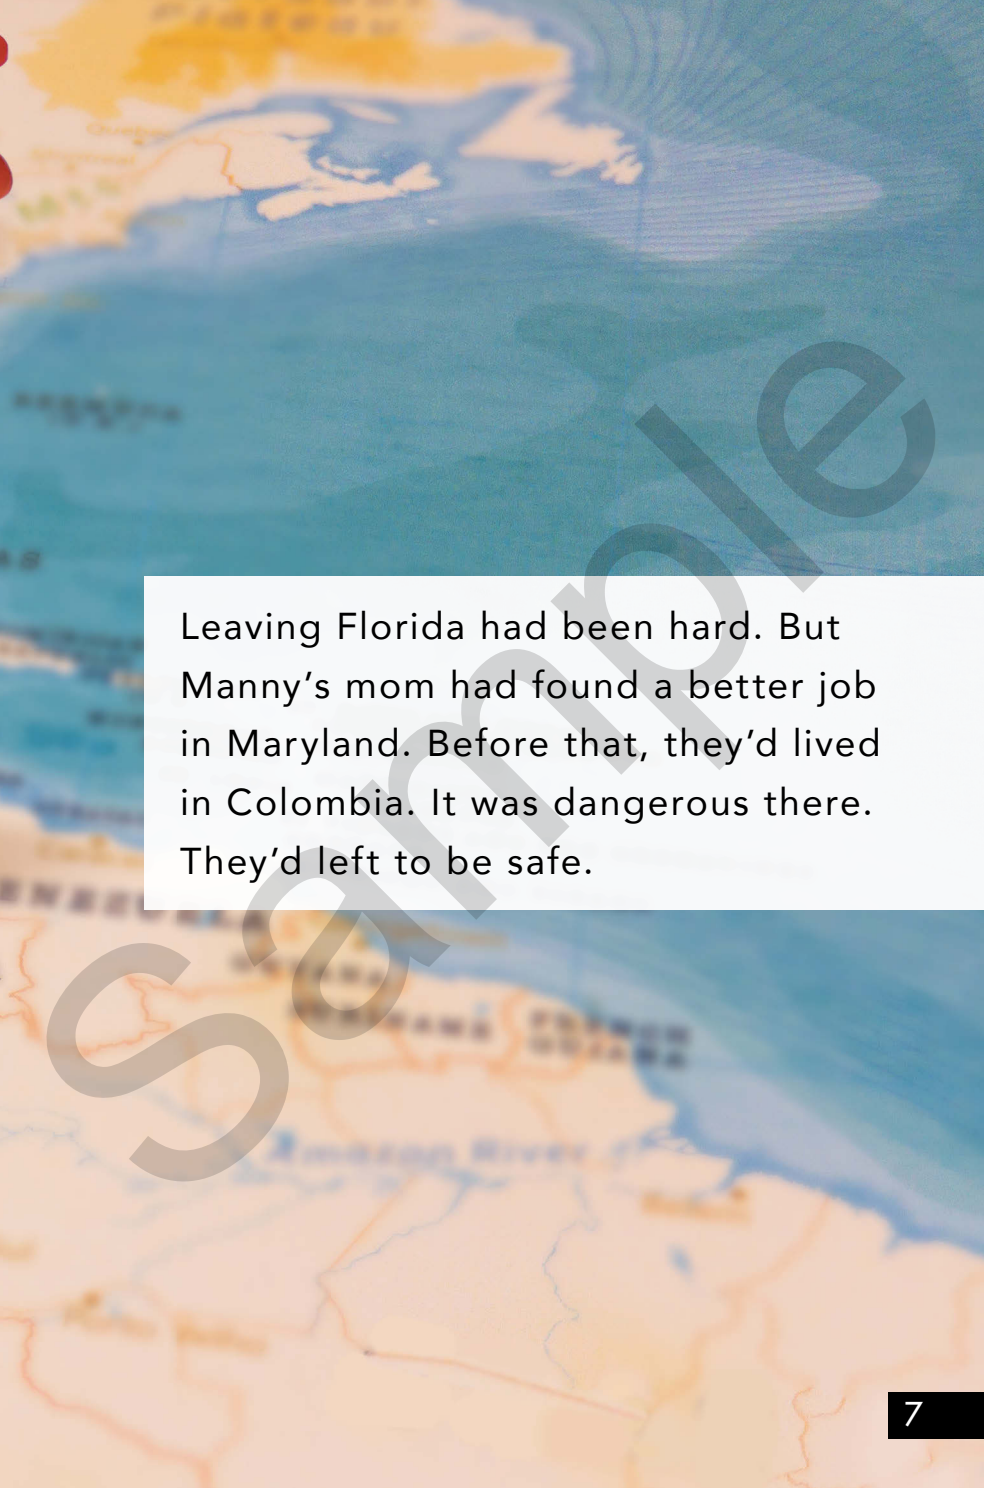

His phone pinged with a text. It was from his friend Diego in Florida.

"Can you come visit? Florida isn't the same without you."

Leaving Florida had been hard. But Manny's mom had found a better job in Maryland. Before that, they'd lived in Colombia. It was dangerous there. They'd left to be safe.

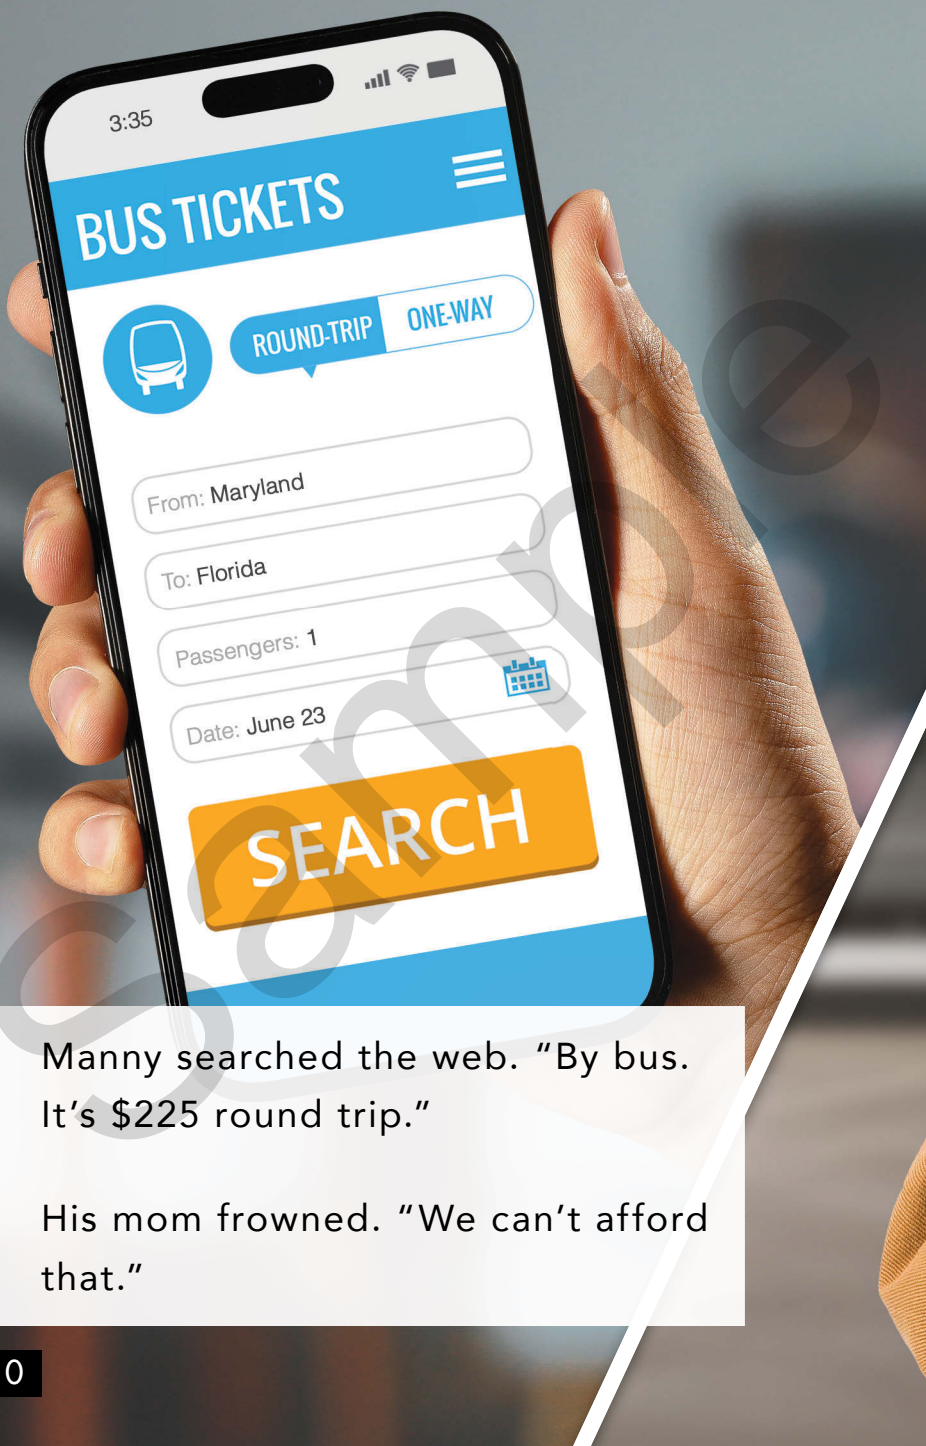

Smiling, Manny texted Diego back.
"Good idea. It's so boring here."

Manny shouted to his mom. "Can I visit Diego?"

Mrs. Leon came into the room. "How would you get there?"

Manny searched the web. "By bus.
It's $225 round trip."

His mom frowned. "We can't afford that."

"I'll pay for it," Manny said.

"How?"

"I'll work and save up. Please, Mom?"
