Chapter 1

AN EASY FIX

Jen feels ill.
Breathing is hard.
It makes her tired.
She walks slow.
Work is not easy.

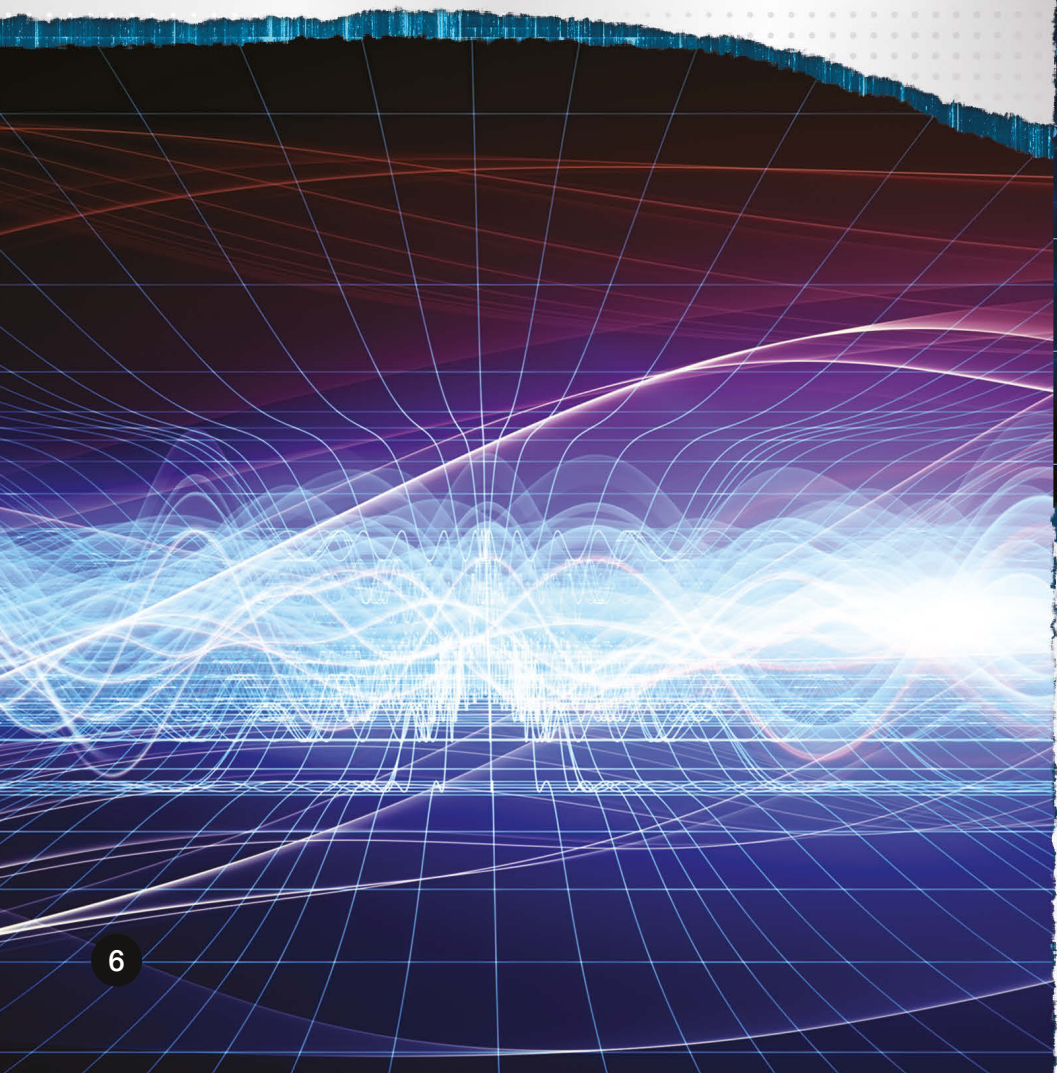

What is wrong?
Her doctor has an idea.
She thinks it is Jen's heart.
It may be sick.
But how can the doctor be sure?

A machine will help.
It takes a special x-ray.
Jen lies on a table.
Pictures are taken.
They show her heart.

These are not normal pictures.
They are 3D.
The doctor looks.
She still cannot tell what is wrong.
Then she turns on a device.

THAT'S COOL!

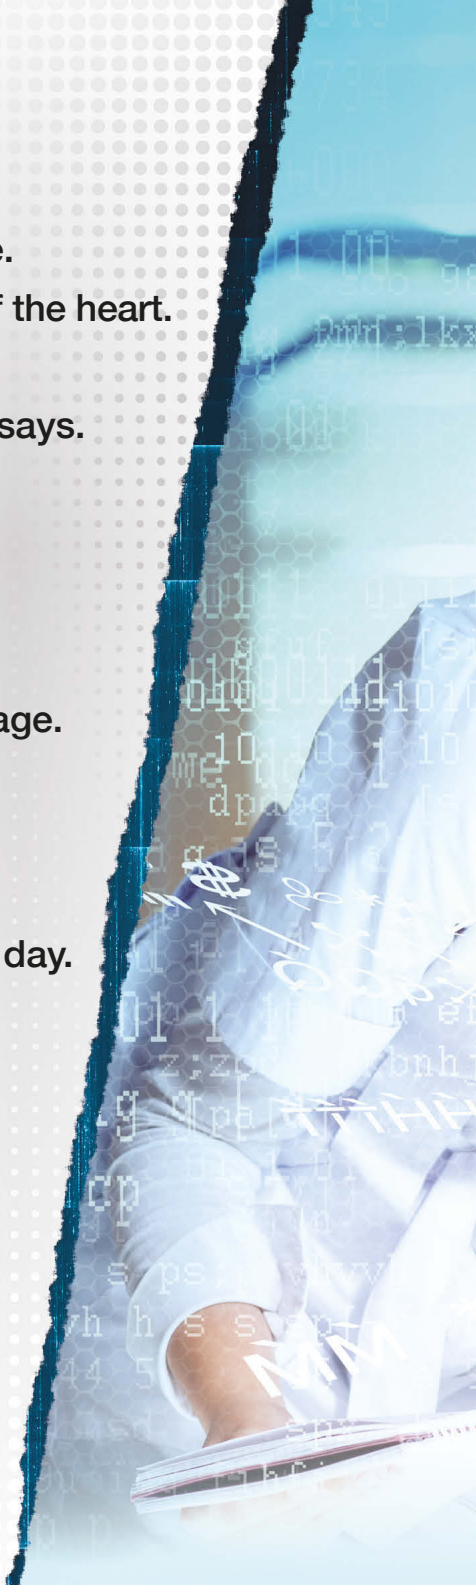

The first moving hologram was produced in 1972.

An image pops up.
It is a hologram.
This shows Jen's heart.

The doctor spins the image.
That lets her see all sides of the heart.
She points at it.
“Here is the problem,” she says.

No surgery is needed.
There is an easy fix.
Soon Jen will be well.
It is all thanks to the 3D image.

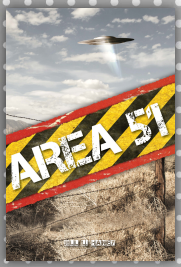

This may sound like sci-fi.
But it is not.
Virtual reality is used every day.
