About TwERL® Phonics

TwERL® Phonics has been developed specifically for emerging readers in grades 4–8 who are developing their decoding skills. The series is also useful for newcomers with no prior English language skills. Written at emergent and beginning reader levels, the books have been carefully controlled to showcase phonics skills, beginning with CVC words and progressing through long vowels, consonant digraphs, vowel diphthongs, and multisyllabic words. Accompanied by dynamic full-color photos, the engaging storylines are tween-centric and represent a wide variety of genres.

Each level features eight 16–24 page books, six fiction and two nonfiction. Each book also includes a Word List, organized by phonics skills. Vocabulary-building words are highlighted in the text. Emergent Sight Words-Based Libraries Designed for Tweens

TWEEN EMERGENT
READER LIBRARIES®

Accessible Text for Tweens
Learning to Read

About Tween Emergent Reader Libraries®

Like the award-winning Teen Emergent Reader Libraries®, known as TERL (see pages 86–93), the Tween Emergent Reader Libraries® will motivate striving readers to pick up a book, start reading, and keep reading. This series features topics and genres particularly of interest to upper elementary and middle school students. The three-box set, with books written at emergent and beginning reader levels, this unique collection contains the books you have been searching for: high-interest fiction and nonfiction selections in sets that include both literary genres and content-specific themes.

Because these books are designed for ages 10 to 14, the storylines presented are not as mature as the TERL collections but still remain contemporary, relevant, and enticing. The first boxed set, GO! Emerge, includes 48-page books written at true emergent levels, with full-color photographs on every page to support comprehension and engage striving readers. Each leveled box gradually increases in level and word count, allowing students to progress in reading step by step.

Key Product Features:

- ▶ Progress monitoring in the form of summative assessments for every book and a progress chart for daily monitoring
- ▶ Multiple levels to allow teachers to match students to their independent reading level
- ▶ Enticing fiction and nonfiction topics supported by stunning full-color photos
- ▶ Extensive instructional support for every book
- ▶ Builds critical reading components: comprehension, vocabulary, and fluency
- ▶ Three copies of every book to encourage small group literature study

Designed Specifically For:

- ▶ Upper Elementary and Middle School Students Striving to Read

About GO! ELL Tween Literacy Libraries

The GO! ELL Tween Literacy Library and *GO! Organized in five content-based genres, each collection includes 20 unique titles. Each genre includes three fiction books and one nonfiction book. Special emphasis is placed on vocabulary, with five key vocabulary words highlighted in each book.

About GO! SEL Social Emotional Stories®

Build students' social and emotional learning skills with these engaging 48-page fiction books. Each pair focuses on an important SEL topic from a relatable tween perspective. One book in each pair showcases a middle school student successfully applying the skill. The other book features a main character who struggles with the skill and has to deal with the fallout. When read together, the pairs provide students with a basis for discussion about the topic and how it can affect their day-to-day life.

Like the GO! SEL Literacy Library™ (see pages 28–31), six topics focus on self-awareness and managing one's own moods and attitudes, and six topics focus on social awareness and managing relationships with others. These books are original stories featuring tweens and are most appropriate for upper elementary and middle school classrooms.

Each pair features five emotion vocabulary terms for a total of 60 words. Vocabulary words are highlighted on the page where they first appear in the text and are listed with their definitions in the glossary at the back of each book. These words are also featured in the Emoti-Cards® (sold separately).

White Lightning Books® addresses a wide variety of themes and interests in a narrow range of reading levels, no higher than a 2.5. Students who struggle to read will often not recover from low reading achievement in elementary school if their particular interests are not addressed. Encouragement and finding the theme to “hook” them is key. These are not YA or elementary books—a fact tweens will appreciate.

Each book is approximately 100 pages with covers that will appeal to tween readers. The titles in the White Lightning series are designed in a similar style. Students will know what to expect when they pick up a book: a fast-paced story, mature and age-appropriate topics, 15 short chapters, and achievable reading success.

American History with a Deep Focus on Historical Perspectives

Tween and Teen

About The Story of America Libraries

The Story of America is a unique collection of history books designed for striving readers in middle school and high school. Nonfiction handbooks are accompanied by historical fiction books with their own nonfiction backstory sections. This collection was created with much thought and consideration for the diverse peoples, cultures, and groups that built our history. The intention of this library is to share some of the stories and voices of those who helped create our nation, from its early days to current times. Seeking to provide opportunities for students to read about and learn from diverse points of view, we have focused intently on exploring a variety of perspectives throughout history.

This library is organized into two time periods. The first covers the very early days in the land that would become the United States through the end of the Civil War, and the second spans Reconstruction through 2022. For each time period, there are six nonfiction handbooks. These highlight key events during a specific span of time while weaving in both well-known and historically underrepresented perspectives. Five historical fiction books accompany each nonfiction handbook. Each fiction book explores a moment in history from the point of view of someone who lived through it. Following the fictional account, a nonfiction section is provided to help readers understand the historical context in which the story takes place.

Designed Specifically For:

- Striving Readers in Grades 6–12

Each Library Includes:

- 6 nonfiction handbooks and 30 historical fiction books per time period
- 3 informational card sets (one featuring key vocabulary words, another featuring key events from history, and a third highlighting important groups and people)

HISTORICAL FICTION Follow the Herd

SYNOPSIS This book is set in 14,000 BC and begins in what is now Siberia. The main character, Toklo, is tasked with leading the hunters of his village in search of the large animals that help sustain his people. But at this point in the Great Ice Age, herds are moving east. The existence of the Bering Land Bridge allows the herds to move to North America. Toklo's people are forced to make the difficult decision to leave the caves where they live and follow the herds to the new continent.

PERSPECTIVES

Read the following introduction to the students before reading the book. Then ask them the pre-reading questions that follow.

- What would it have been like to be one of the first people to see North America? While it is still a mystery when the earliest humans first set foot on the continent, archaeologists have found evidence that goes back at least 16,000 years. At that time, there would have been no roads or cities. The continent would have been a vast wilderness.
- What do you think the earliest humans ate? How did they get that food?
 - What do you think the earliest humans during the Ice Age?
 - What would it have been like to see North America during the Ice Age?
 - What might it have been like to learn at that time in order to survive?
 - What would have been the most important things to learn at that time in order to survive?

INTRODUCE THE BOOK

Show students the book Follow the Herd. Ask them to think about the title and predict what the book might be about given that title.

POST-READING QUESTIONS

Ask students the following questions after they read the book.

- What has Toklo noticed about the weather and its effects on the animals he hunts?
- How would you describe the gathering place?
- How would you describe the animals encountered by Toklo's clan?
- How would you describe the animals encountered by Toklo's clan?

HISTORICAL FICTION A Different Hunt

SYNOPSIS This book is set in 1000 AD in what is now upstate New York. The main character, Oheo, is a member of the Iroquois tribe. It is time for the autumn hunt and older boys are preparing to set out with their bows and arrows. Oheo longs for them, but her mother reminds her that women in their tribe have different responsibilities. Among these are tending to the crops and learning about the medicinal properties of trees. Oheo does not find women's work interesting until her mother becomes the key to healing her. At that point, the knowledge she has gained becomes the key to healing her. Oheo goes on a hunt for something to help her.

PERSPECTIVES

Read the following introduction to the students before reading the book. Then ask them the pre-reading questions that follow.

- What would it have been like to be part of the powerful Iroquois tribe long before European settlers? Living in villages where each extended family had a longhouse, these Indigenous people had an affinity with nature. Women and men had different roles, but each was important to the strength and health of the village.
- Why do you think men and women would have had different roles in an Iroquois village?
 - What might it have been like to live in a longhouse with extended family?
 - How do you think knowledge was passed down from one generation to the next in Iroquois culture? What evidence do you have for this conclusion?

INTRODUCE THE BOOK

Show students the book A Different Hunt. Ask them to think about the title and predict what the book might be about given that title.

Ask students the following questions after they read the book.

- What makes the day the story opens an important day?
- Why do you think Oheo longs to do something different from the traditional tasks of her clan? Why or why not?
- What are the Three Sisters? Why do you think they were called that?
- When you surprised to learn that Iroquois women were considered the owners of the land? Why or why not?
- How do you think Oheo's first words? Why or why not?

Nonfiction Lesson Plan

A detailed lesson plan is included for each section of the nonfiction handbook.

THROUGH 1599, SECTION 2 European Contact

OVERVIEW This section focuses on the first Europeans to reach parts of the Americas. While evidence suggests that the first group was the Vikings, their stay in North America was relatively short. How they lived and any conflicts they may have had with Indigenous Peoples remain a mystery. Such conflicts are much clearer in the records of European explorers 500 years later. While explorers, such as Christopher Columbus, were initially searching for a western route to Asia, they soon became aware of the existence of the two large continents and island nations of the Americas. Very quickly, a race began between European nations to stake claims on these lands. In the midst of this competition, the rights of the people already living in the Americas were largely ignored.

BIG IDEAS TO PONDER

Before introducing students to Section 2 of the handbook, provide time for them to ponder and discuss questions related to the major themes of the text. The following questions work well for both whole-class and small group discussion.

- Who were the first Europeans to arrive in the Americas? What makes you think this?
- How did the first Europeans reach the Americas? What challenges do you think this type of transportation created?
- How do you think Indigenous Peoples reacted to the arrival of the first European explorers?

After students have had a chance to discuss these questions, ask each student to choose one question to write about in a reflection.

EXPLORE SECTION 2 THROUGH ACTIVITIES

Connect the above big ideas through the following activities to help prepare students to read Section 2.

WHOLE CLASS ACTIVITY: Display the World Exploration map on page 69 of the handbook. Ask students to comment on what they notice about the routes various explorers took from 1492 to 1522. Have them ponder why European explorers may have taken these routes and what type of funding and preparation would have had to go into sea voyages such as these. Then divide the class into six small groups. Assign each small group one of the explorers noted on the map and have group members research that expedition, why it was undertaken, and its long-term effects.

PARTNER ACTIVITY: Assign partners and ask them to ponder how European ships and ship crews may have appeared to the Indigenous Peoples who already inhabited the islands or coastlines where these ships landed. Assign each pair a European group or explorer covered in Section 2 (e.g., Vikings, Christopher Columbus, John Cabot, Pedro Álvares Cabral, Amerigo Vesputti, Ferdinand Magellan). Ask them to imagine what Indigenous Peoples may have thought upon seeing the Europeans. Encourage partners to research online in terms of any documented interactions between the group or explorer and Indigenous Peoples. Then have the pair create a dialogue between two Indigenous people's thoughts about the strangers who have landed.

READING AND REFLECTING ON SECTION 2

Have students read Section 2 of the handbook in small groups, with partners, or individually. Then have them revisit the big idea questions they answered before reading. Based on Section 2, have them discuss how their answers to the questions have changed. Then have students to write their answers to each question in a reflection.

SUGGESTED STUDENT PROJECTS

To encourage students to deepen and extend their learning about the key themes of Section 2, have them choose one of the following projects to complete. Alternatively, allow students to propose their own projects that promote exploration of one or more of the key themes.

- Write a letter from one of the sailors who traveled with any of the European explorers. The letter should be addressed to the sailor's family back home. Include details about the sailor's experiences during the expedition.
- Research the design of a caravel and design a 3D model of a caravel or a drawing of a caravel that includes all the major parts noted on the diagram on page 49 of the handbook. Then label each part and add a note about its function on the ship.
- Create a map that illustrates the voyage(s) of one of the European groups or explorers covered in Section 2. Use the maps on pages 44 and 69 as a reference but provide more detail in your map including the dates of the voyage(s) and the length of time at each stop.
- Research what is known about the culture of the Taino people. Then design a poster featuring key facts about their social system, daily life, agricultural system, and any additional facts learned.

A detailed lesson plan is included for each historical fiction book.

ELL

TEEN LITERACY LIBRARY

About ELL Teen Literacy Libraries

The ELL Teen Literacy Library and ELL 2 Teen Literacy Library are unique collections of fiction and nonfiction books aimed at high school and adult English language learners, including newcomers. Many of these learners struggle with reading and a limited English vocabulary. This makes it difficult to do well in content-area classes where textbooks are often written above grade level. For this reason, these libraries focus on social studies, math, science, and arts/culture topics in books written at accessible levels. Each engaging fiction and nonfiction book features age-respectful storylines and full-color photographs on every page to support beginning readers at the secondary level.

Organized into five content-focused genres, each collection includes 20 unique titles. Each genre includes three fiction books and one nonfiction book. Special emphasis is placed on vocabulary, with five key vocabulary words highlighted in each book.

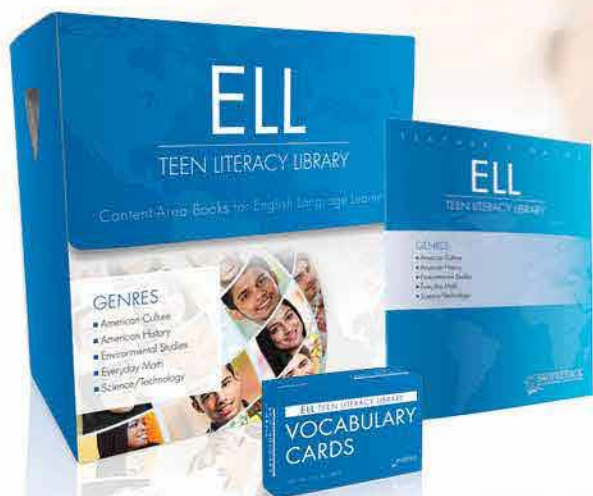

Key Product Features:

Built-In Text Supports for Older Developing Readers

About Teen Emergent Reader Libraries®

The Teen Emergent Reader Libraries® have been developed to solve the issue of motivating the most striving teen readers to pick up a book and start reading. The three libraries are written at the emergent and beginning reader levels. Short, simple sentences along with highlighted “emphasis” words and phrases build confidence while full-color photos support comprehension.

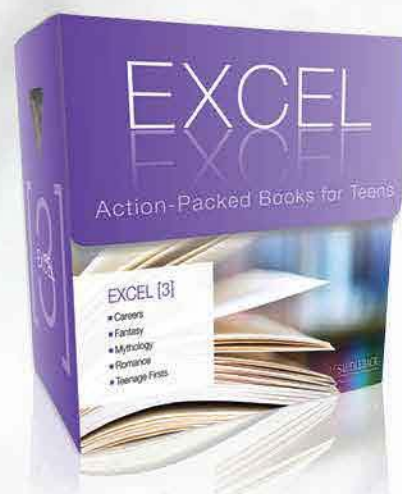

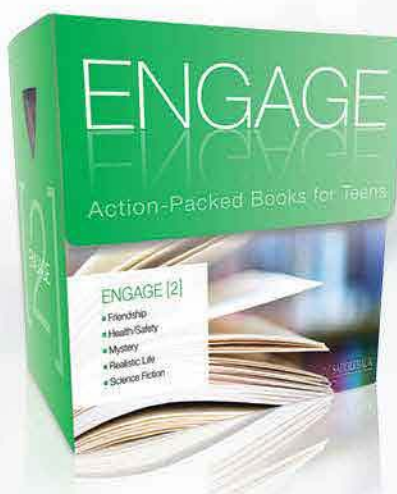

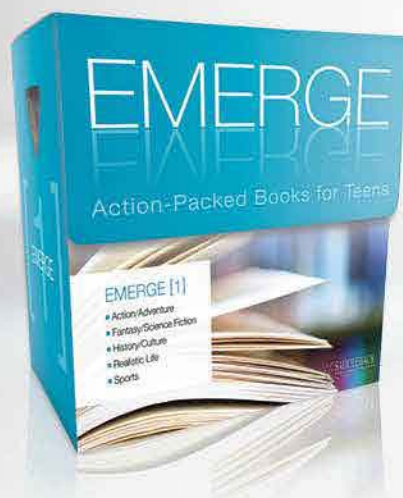

The books offer mature, teen-centric storylines that entice teens to read. In addition, each book is supported by a lesson plan, guided reading questions, a reproducible comprehension activity, and a quiz. Libraries for Developing Readers, The Next Step in Fluency

TEEN EARLY
FLUENCY LIBRARIES®

[TEFL]

Builds Confidence and Helps Students Become Independent Readers

About Teen Early Fluency Libraries®

The Teen Early Fluency Libraries® build on the reading base of the Teen Emergent Reader Libraries® (see pages 86–93). These books introduce readers to longer fiction and bridge the gap between emergent reading and early fluency. By the time older developing readers approach a second-grade reading level, they have a handle on the most basic literacy skills. They are ready to increase their fluency so that text flows and makes more sense. Fluency is closely tied to comprehension.

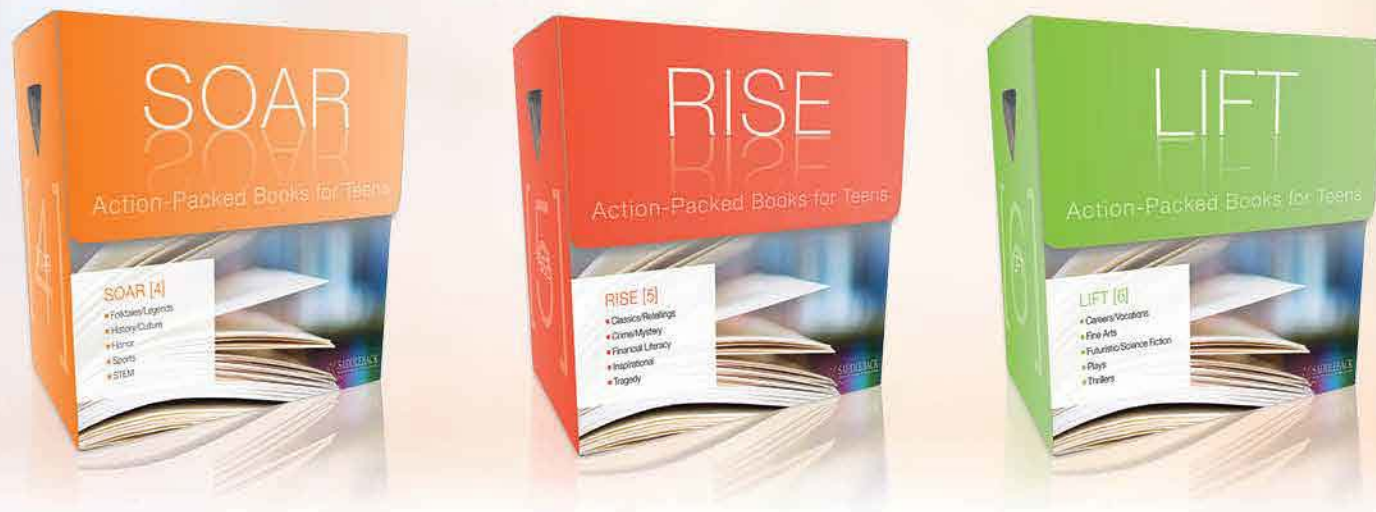

In these boxed sets, book lengths have been increased so there is more practice for readers who are gaining confidence and building their vocabulary. Instead of photos on every page, the photos appear every few pages in the fiction and every other spread in the nonfiction. Each boxed set increases by half a reading level so that students can continue to make progress step by step.

Hi-Lo Nonfiction Handbooks

RL: 3.5 | Grades: 6 to 12, Teen and YA | LEXILE: HL320L TO HL350L

Five unique handbooks comprise this American Government series. With the confusing political discourse in today's world, it's no wonder kids tune out. How can we tune them back in? The stale descriptions in standard American government textbooks do nothing to motivate learning. The readability is too high and the language too dry. How can we make it personal? Accessible? Interesting? Even humorous?

Fast paced and easy to read, these graphic U.S. history titles teach students about key historical events in American history from 1500 to the present. Dramatic and colorful graphics highlight the text with easy transitions, which avoids a choppy narrative. These history titles offer a variety of rich material to support teaching to the standards.

Using the graphics, students can bridge what they already know with what they have yet to learn. Graphically illustrated text also teaches inference skills, dialogue, transitions, and drawing conclusions. Finally, graphics in the classroom provide an intervention with proven success for the striving reader.

We've taken our Timeless Classics and Timeless Shakespeare and made them even more accessible. Ten of our most popular titles now offered at a first grade reading level. Words and phrases that may have stumped emergent readers have been eliminated. We recognize that students in the same classroom may not have equivalent reading skills, which is why the two levels appear virtually identical—on the outside. Inside it's a whole different look, with a larger font and extra white space, making these stories visually appealing with the aim to improve reading comprehension, fluency, and confidence. *Not all titles shown.
