HISSES

The planet is dry.
It is very hot.

“Bad luck,” Nash says.
“No one can live here.”

“At least it is safe to breathe.”
Beth scans around.

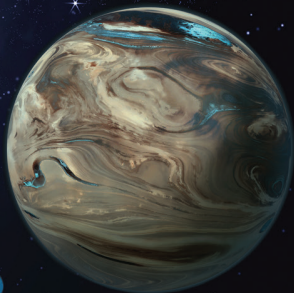

She taps a small box.
"Our tech says it is full of life."

"I trust what I see," Nash says.

"We need to go.

Try the next planet."

Beth sighs.

"It will take so long to get there.

Our people need a place to live now."

Hiss.

"Did you hear that?" Beth asks.
